Multi-State Distribution Network Announcement

Sunstream is pleased to announce our new multi-site distribution program designed to deliver product into regions more efficiently and at lower freight costs.

We now have a three distribution sites, strategically located across the country. This initiative has enabled us to increase capacity of our production, reduce the processing lead time between order and product shipment, and decrease overall product freight costs.

When you place an order with Sunstream, we will review the order to consider geographical location for delivery, lead times of each product ordered, current inventory of each product ordered and differences in freight costs. Based on our findings, we select the optimal distribution site to fulfill your order.
